SHARING LOVE THROUGH A WINDOW

Families find ways to connect during quarantine

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

On March 13, facilities like Dunbar Village in Bay St. Louis were put on lockdown to protect the elders from exposure to the Coronavirus (COVID-19). “It’s been tough not being able to see her,” Linda Breland said. Breland’s mother Barbara Bourgeois has been a resident at Dunbar Village for the past year. On March 19, Barbara turned 87 and Dunbar Village provided a way for her children to wish her a Happy Birthday. The program is called “Sharing Love Through a Window,” Dunbar Village Executive Director Amy Ivey said. On Tuesdays and Thursdays, family and friends can schedule appointments to visit their loved ones. Each visit is a 15-minute interval, she said. The elders are brought to a window so they can see their families and friends, Amy said. Last Thursday, Linda – along with her siblings Loretta Thomas and Ricky Bourgeois – surprised their mom with a window visit and sang “Happy Birthday” to her. “It was emotional,” Loretta said. “I’m just glad we got to physically see her. Things change so quickly with her health and we are not there to do the little things. It took a burden off me.” Loretta said that Barbara is used to daily visits from at least one of her children and Ricky

We are grateful for everything Dunbar has done protecting her because she is so vulnerable.” Since the lockdown, Amy said that employees are screened every time they come into the building. “The staff has really stepped up looking out for each of the elders,” she said. “The elders overall are thankful for being taken care of. We’ve been trying to FaceTime with families more and the window visits are a way to keep them connected. It helps that we have people here so compassionate already doing everything to comfort them.” In adherence to social distancing guidelines, Amy said the elders are participate in doorway activities and small group (under 10 people) activities. “We’re still trying to keep some normalcy around here and take it day-by-day,” she said. “There’s a lot of thinking outside the box going on around here.” Loretta said she’s told her mother that she is in

While the community still mourns Howard “Fade” Pickens -- who on Thursday, March 19, was the first person in Mississippi to die from complications caused by COVID-19 -- his wife and daughter still suffer from the virus and could use some help. “My mom is still really sick,” Fade’s daughter Jamee said Friday. “She’s still not feeling well. I think my fever is going back up right now, but I’ve had a fever on and off for the past few days. I haven’t really had much of a cough or any trouble breathing.

The Mississippi State Department of Health on Tuesday morning reported 71 new cases of COVID-19 in the state, including one new case in Hancock County. The state total now stands at 320, the county total at five. So far, there has been only one confirmed coronavirus death, that of a Hancock County man (see separate story). There are now two COVID-19 testing sites open in Hancock County. • Memorial Drinkwater Internal Medicine Walk-In Clinic, 300 Drinkwater Drive, Bay St. Louis, Monday – Friday 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. and Sat & Sun 9 a.m. – 3 p.m.

• Memorial Hancock Family Practice, 4433 Leisure Time Drive, Diamondhead, Monday – Friday 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. and Sat & Sun 9 a.m. – 3 p.m. Business was brisk at the Bay St. Louis testing site on Tuesday. “We’ve had a lot of people come through,” one nurse — clad head-to-toe in protective gear — said Tuesday, in between tests. “We had seven cars at once through here a few minutes ago.” Residents are asked to call the facilities at 228-867-5000 before coming in for possible testing as procedures will differ from site to site. Hancock County, cities move to require restaurants & bars to shut down in-house dining, limit public gatherings

STAFF WRITER

In an effort to curb the further spread of Coronavirus (COVID-19) and in adherence to the guidelines set forth by the Centers for Disease Control and the Mississippi State Department of Health, Hancock County -- along with the cities of Bay St. Louis, Diamondhead, and Waveland -- on Saturday signed a joint resolution to temporarily close entrances to public buildings and facilities; prohibit gatherings of more than 10 people; and require all restaurants in Hancock County and the cities to only provide take-out, pick-up, delivery or drive-through services effective 8 p.m., Sat. March 21.

According to the joint resolution, “there shall be no in-house dining, on-site or available sitting areas for the public. Any onsite dining is prohibited. There shall be no formation of lines of 10 or more people congregating to pick up food.”

The resolution also states that all bars, night-clubs, taverns, and private clubs in Hancock County shall close, but may provide take-out, pick-up, delivery or drive-through food services for food.

In addition to the joint resolution, each city also laid out other specifics.

In Bay St. Louis, the Jimmy Rutherford Fishing Pier is now closed. A citywide burn ban is also in effect. All city offices are closed to the public. City personnel will be available by phone, email, and U.S. mail for anyone that needs to conduct city business. For more information, visit <https://www.bayst-louis-ms.gov/>.

In the city of Waveland, the Garfield Lander Pier is closed to the public, as well as the Lighthouse restrooms. The city’s offices are also closed to the public and business can be conducted via telephone and email and U.S. mail. The guidelines for Waveland’s restaurants, bars, taverns, and lounges took effect Sat. March 21 at 11:59 p.m. Mayor Mike Smith said Saturday that Buccaneer Park, which is state-owned, is still open, but only allowing self-contained campers. All the facilities as well as the office are closed, but available by telephone. Sites are also limited to eight people per site. For more information, visit <https://waveland.ms.gov/>.

all non-essential employees home until March 27. County Administrator Eddie Favre said that the phones have been transferred to individuals so that people can still conduct business via phone, email, and U.S. Mail. For more information, visit <https://www.hancockcounty.ms.gov/>.

The county also voted to close McLeod Park, effective Sunday, March 22 at 3 p.m.

The beaches are still open as of now, but the county is taking that on a day-by-day basis.

The county and cities also limited events to ten or fewer people. An event is defined as a “gathering for business, social, or recreational activity, including, but not limited to, community, civic, public leisure, or sporting event; parades; conventions; fundraisers, large private parties, celebrations or banquets;

but the fever can just be exhausting.”

At age 63, Pickens himself suffered from COPD and was in a Slidell hospital intensive care unit fighting it when he was diagnosed with COVID-19.

“Fade” — so-called because of his phenomenal hair-cutting skills — opened the Fade 1 Barbershop in the Markettown Plaza in Bay St. Louis about eight years ago.

Over the years, he took the time to reach out to his younger clients and try to be a positive influence in their lives.

“He was a big role model in the community,” Jamee said.

Several of his friends and clients have posted tributes on his Facebook page.

“RIP to the most respected role model to all, and man that was always a great person to be around. Fade was an awesome person and one of my best friends. Always made you laugh,” Ash Khaled said.

“Was always a respect thing between us since he first started cutting my hair in the 9th grade,” according to Austin D. Alexander. “Over the years he became more like family and a man I always looked up to. Another good one gone too soon, you’ll forever be missed Mr. Howard. All the stories, laughs, and times we shared together will forever be remembered. Pops was always a good man and a great father, mentor, and public figure. Through all the years he cut my hair the bond was much more than that, he is a person that will forever have a place in my heart & he has always been proud of me every step of the way I’ve taken since high school. He taught me a lot and he will forever be missed.”

“He was very old school,” Jamee said. “He had a great smile and a great laugh.”

Fade was born in Birmingham, Ala., but grew up in Los Angeles.

“That’s where he met my mom,” Jamee said, “in California.”

Over the years, the family moved around a bit, living in Las Vegas, Slidell, then Prentiss, Miss., after Hurricane Katrina.

Eventually, they moved to Waveland, and Fade opened the family business.

Fade had five daughters, including Jamee and her little sister Ivianna. They still live with mom Brenda and Jamee’s seven-month-old daughter Ava.

Whether the business stays open is still up in the air, Jamee said, since the family is still reeling.

“My mom hasn’t made a decision yet,” she said. “I guess it just depends.”

In the meantime, James said, “My mom has to pay the shop bills, the shop note, the house note. My little sister, she’s graduating this year from high school.”

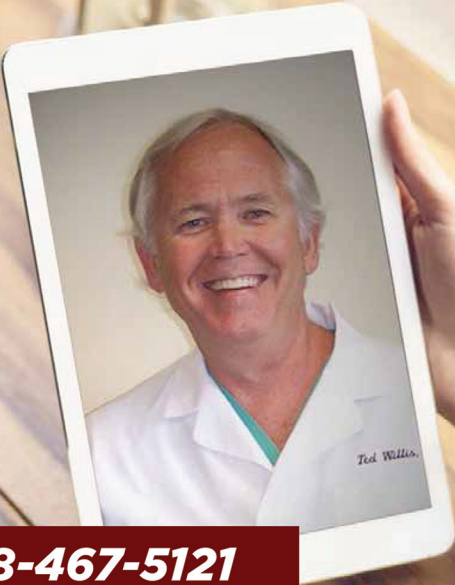

Family friend Archana Sharma is trying to help raise funds and get food together for the family, and started an account for them at <https://mealtrain.com/914on5>.

“We have neighbors and friends bringing us food and stuff,” Jamee said, but the family may need help with the funeral and other expenses.

Contributions can be made to Jamee’s PayPal account at <https://www.paypal.me/jameebre>

“Whatever people want to contribute, we will be appreciative,” she said. “We’re just thankful that people want to help.”

“The whole purpose is to get people to stay home,” she said. “Our parents and grandparents are so vulnerable. Her life matters and it’s true. We’re practicing it (social distancing).”

Linda added that she is grateful for everything the staff at Dunbar Village is doing for her mother.

“Everything Dunbar Village has done is to protect them,” she said. “It’s hard not seeing her. She cried and we cried. It’s the next best thing when they see you. It has been tough, but her life matters, my life matters. Social distancing will hopefully nip this in the bud.”

Ricky said that “you don’t realize how important it is until you can’t touch them.”

“It reminds me of what people say, ‘I wish I could hug my Mama one more time,’” Ricky said. “She was right there in front of me and I couldn’t hug her. It just breaks my heart.”

Bay puts temporary halt on $6.5 million bond

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

Bay St. Louis Mayor Mike Favre on Tuesday, March 17 announced that due to closures related to Coronavirus (COVID-19), the city will temporarily halt moving forward with the $6.5 million bond.

In November 2019, the council approved authorizing the issuance of a general obligation bond, with it being up to a 60/40 split; Wards 5 and 6 will get the 60, the other four wards get the 40, based on project needs to be determined by the council.

City attorney Heather Smith said that the city was scheduled to close on the bond in two weeks.

“The Hollywood Casino has shut down as of midnight last night,” Favre said. “I’m not sure how long it’s going to be. Nobody really can answer that question. Our next biggest thing is tourism and sales tax. We’re going to take a hit on that, also.”

Smith said that the city has a year from January 2020 to move forward on the bond.

She added that the city will take it week-by-week and gauge what the financial situation is looking like.

“We’re not saying it’s dead, but we want to make sure that we’re making the right decision,” she said.

Favre also reiterated that the city has no plans to discontinue the bond.

“This is a temporary hold until we can get a better grasp of what’s going on in the city as far as revenue coming in,” Favre said.

The council also ratified the mayor’s proclamation of the existence of a local emergency due to Coronavirus (COVID-19), effective March 16.

In addition, the council also temporarily closed certain public facilities and city-owned/operated through April 21:

- Recreational ball fields.
- Public restrooms located at recreation ball fields and public parks.
- Bay St. Louis Community Hall and Old Town Community Center. Future reservations are not being accepted at this time until the facilities reopen.
- Public parks will remain open. However, guidelines provided by the Centers for Disease Control must be followed regarding crowds and social distancing.

The council will reassess the situation at its April 7 meeting.

In another effort to encourage social distancing, the city also approved a resolution to waive credit card convenience fees ($3 fee), on a temporary basis effective March 17, for utility bills only.

For more information, contact city personnel at 228-466-8951.

In other action:

The council approved a motion establishing the following policy: that upon the mayor’s declaration of an emergency, the council president call an emergency meeting within 24 hours to either approve or disapprove the declaration.

Our most valuable

The events surrounding the pandemic related to Coronavirus (COVID-19) have quickly escalated.

Several states have mandated that residents stay in their homes, unless making a necessary trip to places such as the grocery store, doctor office, or a drive-thru restaurant.

Tragically, the first death recorded in our state was Hancock County resident Howard “Fade” Pickens.

I didn’t know Mr. Pickens, but from what I’ve heard, he was a great man and will be missed by many.

When I heard the news, it became personal. Even though I didn’t know Mr. Pickens, he was a member of our little community.

For a while now, COVID-19 seemed to be so far away from us. But now it’s here, in our country, our state, and our county.

I must admit, I began to feel more anxiety and panic. I immediately socially distanced myself from family. My father’s immune system is comprised and I don’t want to risk that.

Nor do I wish to risk the health of others. Even though I still have to go to work, I only go to the office, to an emergency meeting hosted by officials, and my house.

I try to take extra precautions. For those who can work from home or are able to stay home, I urge you to do so.

This has been recommended by many medical professionals and will hopefully help flatten the curve, which means less people becoming infected with the virus.

That’s what we want. We don’t want or need our healthcare system inundated with the sick and run out of resources to save lives.

So stay home and only go out if it’s an absolute necessity to do so.

I also know that several of our community members are called to work. Be it city or county workers, linemen, bankers, contractors, medical professionals, restaurant staff, first responders, retail workers, truck drivers, etc.

I know a girl named Hilary. We met when I taught her son in preschool. We are Facebook friends and I love keeping up with her and her three beautiful children. They live here in Hancock County.

She is a single mom and she works at the Walmart in Pass Christian.

Ever since the panic buying began, she has posted several updates, urging people to be kind to re-

Change in the face of COVID-19

As businesses across Hancock County and the rest of Mississippi and the world make some temporary changes in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic, we here at the Sea Coast Echo are making some changes too, for the safety of our customers and our staff.

Beginning Monday and for the next few weeks, we’re asking our customers who need to pay bills; post classified, legal or display advertising or renew subscriptions to do so either by phone, mail, email or at our website, www.seacoastecho.com.

Our main office phone number is 228-467-5473. That’s the number for information, subscriptions and legal or classified advertising.

You may also reach Advertising Specialist Leslie Aube at 575-693-5962, or me at 228-332-0257.

If you do need to transact business face-to-face, you can call or text me at 228-332-0257, or you can email me at gbelcher@seacoastecho.com any time, and I’ll make that happen.

All of us here at the Echo want you, our readers, to know that we appreciate you very much, and we want you to stay safe, healthy and happy during these troublesome times.

We will continue our weekly print edition each Wednesday, no matter what happens over the next few weeks, but the number of pages may dwindle somewhat.

With the COVID-19 situation, many of our advertisers have been forced to make some temporary changes and won’t be able to advertise. For instance, some of the sale ads and inserts many of our customers look for may be missing for the next few weeks, and others are still making plans as the situation rapidly evolves.

Our revenue — the means by which all our staffers put food on the table and keep the lights on — will shrink, so reducing the number of pages we print will help us absorb that loss.

However, all the top news — and most especially, the COVID-19 updates — will continue to be posted on our website and Facebook page as the information becomes available.

Our online readership has grown exponentially over the past several days, as the community looks for the latest, most accurate information about what’s happening locally and, again, we thank you for trusting us to provide that service.

Please stay safe out there, stay healthy, and take care of yourselves and loved ones.

Wicker Debunks Coronavirus Myths

Americans Need Accurate Information to Make Good Decisions

As the coronavirus takes a greater toll on our economy and daily lives, it has become the centerpiece of news coverage, social media posts, and conversations nationwide. Unfortunately, public interest has often exceeded what is known about the relatively new disease, allowing misinformation, myths, and confusion to fill the void.

Americans need accurate information during this pandemic to make informed decisions about their health and safety. In order to set the record straight, I am working to dispel several common myths about the virus below.

MYTH: Young people are immune to the coronavirus.

FACT: Although older people are more likely to experience severe complications, anyone can get the virus. Those with underlying health conditions can also have more severe reactions, regardless of their age. In fact, a new analysis from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

From the Senate
By Sen. Roger Wicker

(CDC) shows that one in five Americans who have been hospitalized with the virus are between ages 20 and 44. Young people should set aside any illusions that they are immune to this virus.

MYTH: Only people with symptoms can spread the virus.

FACT: Many people may have the virus for days without showing any symptoms. Some infected individuals may never show symptoms at all. Individuals may appear and feel healthy while unknowingly spreading the virus to others. It is therefore vital that we all follow the White House’s latest guidance, even if we feel well: avoid gatherings of more than 10 people, refrain from unnecessary travel, keep your children home, and avoid visiting crowded public spaces.

MYTH: Everyone should get tested, just to be safe.

FACT: Although the government and private businesses are working to expand access rapidly, there currently are not enough tests to go around. Tests should be prioritized for those who need them most: senior citizens, those with chronic illnesses, health-care workers, those with symptoms, and those who have been in contact with someone who has tested positive for the virus.

MYTH: Facemasks will protect us from the virus.

FACT: Masks can make us feel safe, but they do not necessarily offer better protection. Some people have taken to wearing surgical masks, but these do not block the airborne particles that spread disease.

The best mask to wear is the N95, which blocks those particles with 95 percent efficiency. However, these masks are in short supply and need to be reserved for health-care workers. Others should avoid buying them.

MYTH: The coronavirus was created in a lab.

FACT: There is no evidence to support this claim. Scientists do not have the ability to create a virus like COVID-19 in a lab. The coronavirus comes from the same family of virus as Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS). Scientists believe both viruses originated in bats before spreading to other animals, and that COVID-19 then spread to humans at an open-air market in Wuhan, China. The Chinese government has since shut down that market.

MYTH: Pets are spreading COVID-19 to their owners.

FACT: There are no

PSC Order to Temporarily Suspend Utility Disconnections Includes Municipalities

Restriction is in place for 60 days; does NOT eliminate the requirement that utility customers continue to pay bills

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Public Service Commission, with guidance from Attorney General Lynn Fitch, does include ALL water, sewer, natural gas and electricity providers to our previous order of temporarily suspending disconnection for 60 days. This includes municipal services that are not normally regulated by the PSC.

This is a temporary suspension of disconnection to further our efforts to protect public health and welfare during the COVID-19 outbreak. Utility customers should continue to pay outstanding bills and pay for services provided during the 60 days.

“The PSC will continue putting the welfare of Mississippi residents a top priority during this time,” Chairman Dane Maxwell said. “We will continue to work closely with all of our agencies and regulated companies to prevent any additional hardships to customers.”

In the Declaration of Emergency by Governor Tate Reeves earlier this week, direction was given to examine any statutes, rules or regulations that may be temporarily suspended or modified if those regulations would hinder or delay action necessary to cope with the virus outbreak.

The PSC will continue to monitor the situation and will enforce protocols that ensure all Mississippians have access to essential utility services during the spread of COVID-19.

Two charged with murder in the March 1 shooting death of Bay man

SEA COAST ECHO

Two men have been charged in St. Tammany Parish for the shooting death earlier this month of a Bay St. Louis man.

Lamar Henry, 30, died at Ochsner Medical - Hancock Center on March 1 after being dropped off at the hospital suffering from multiple gunshot wounds which he allegedly suffered in Gulfport.

According to a Gulfport Police Department press release at the time, the department was investigating Henry’s death as a homicide.

“The Bay St. Louis Police Department was summoned to the medical facility,” according to a Gulfport P.D. press release issued March 2.

At that time, another Bay St. Louis man -- 27-year-old Lamar Hargett, 27, the man who brought Henry to the hospital -- “told responding law enforcement the shooting occurred when the two were involved in an incident in Gulfport,” according to a St. Tammany Parish Sheriff’s Office press release.

“On March 5, detectives with Gulfport Police Department contacted the St. Tammany

Parish Sheriff’s Office after their investigation led them to the Slidell area. While working jointly with Gulfport Police Department, St. Tammany detectives discovered Henry had accompanied Hargett to a residence in the 4200 block of Ash Drive in Slidell during the early morning hours of March 1 with the intent of robbing Trequan Rollins.

“When Rollins observed the men parked near his residence, the men attempted to flee but Rollins followed them. As the two vehicles proceeded through Slidell, gunfire was exchanged,

With so much information being shared about the coronavirus, it tail workers, buying up only what you need, and whatnot.

Throughout the years, I know she has spearheaded several fundraising efforts for non-profits.

Just last week, she also provided pizza to fire fighters who were in need of a meal, due to the fact that some of Walmart’s shelves were bare.

She is one of thousands working to keep people stocked in things they need.

Not only does she risk her own health, she risks the health of her own children. But she does it for the greater good, which I know to be a fact.

She could go home and say she didn’t want to work. But she continues to work because she cares about her community and supplying them with what they need.

I believe we need to thank those who are considered our country’s essential workers right now.

It is through their hard work and commitment that will help us get through this.

So, at the very least, people that can should be at home. Do your part. Don’t risk the lives of others just because you think you are invincible. That is irresponsible.

I’m thankful to Hilary and all others who are keeping our country running during this difficult time.

Again, I’m hoping you all stay safe, healthy, and please make good choices.

Governor signs two new coronavirus orders

SEA COAST ECHO

On Monday, Gov. Tate Reeves signed two executive orders to further the state's response to COVID-19 and aid Mississippians being impacted. One of the orders Reeves signed Monday, Executive Order No. 1459, activates the Mississippi National Guard to support mobile testing units and support Mississippi State Department of Health and Mississippi Emergency Management Agency at the testing locations. Reeves also signed Executive Order No. 1458, which allows state agencies to determine which state employees are essential and send everyone else home. Reeves also asked schools to begin working with the Mississippi Department of Education to develop distance learning protocols. The second executive order asks schools to continue providing free and reduced lunches to students, as well.

and artistic performances and spiritual and faith-based gatherings."

An event for the purposes of Saturday's proclamation is not a "public location where people pass through, such as transportation centers, airports, public squares, and shopping areas." Retail establishments such as grocery stores, gas stations, pharmacies, and banks are not events. Medical facilities, factories, schools, universities, and city-owned or leased buildings where essential functions and services are being carried out are not events.

In the event of gatherings of 10 or less, people must ensure they are following health and safety guidelines recommended by the CDC and MSDH, which can be found at <https://www.cdc.gov/> and <https://msdh.ms.gov/>.

Hancock County Board President Scotty

Adam on Saturday said that "we've just got to all be in this together."

The mayors from Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and Diamondhead all attended the county's emergency meeting.

"Whatever we do, make sure we spread the same message," Scotty Adam said.

He also encouraged city leaders to spread the message to small business owners about the options available to them through the Small Business Administration.

Supervisor Kodie Koenenn said that he would rather "the question be asked did we do too much than somebody ask should we have done more."

Scotty Adam also stressed to the public that they keep their health and safety in mind and maintain social distancing and other guidelines issued by the CDC and MSDH.

"Hopefully, everybody listens and heeds all the warnings," he said. "The warnings have been incoming steadily every day. There's tons of information about how this virus is transmitted and spread. Read it. If you're going to put something on Facebook, put the facts on there from the CDC. Don't put something on there that you heard."

Hancock County Emergency Agency Director Brian Adam said that his agency is only putting out the facts they receive.

Brian Adam also addressed some of the rumors circulating, one being that President Donald Trump is shutting the country down.

Brian Adam said he has spoken to Gov. Tate Reeves and MEMA's Executive Greg Michel about the matter.

"That's one of the things they were saying is that they were federalizing the National Guard," he said. "That's not true. If he does that, then everything is pretty much shut down."

Brian Adam went on to say that many of the decisions are being left up to the governors.

"Now the governors are leaving it up to the local jurisdictions to do a lot of the protocols," he quired to receive testing.

"Please remember that COVID-19 testing is currently only for those who are running a fever of 100.4 or higher AND have a severe cough or chest pains," according to an MSDH statement issued Tuesday afternoon. "This will make the best use of testing capacity for those who need it most. If you've been exposed to someone with COVID-19 but do not have any symptoms, please stay home and away from others to help stop the spread of the virus. All Mississippians are asked to do their part by following these guidelines, avoiding gatherings of 10 or more people, and washing hands frequently and thoroughly."

UNEMPLOYMENT IN THE FACE OF COVID-19

On Saturday, Gov. Tate Reeves announced efforts to provide unemployment benefits to help Mississippi workers and their families impacted by the COVID-19 outbreak.

Reeves signed an executive order instructing the Mississippi Department of Employment Security (MDES) to expedite payments to unemployed Mississippians and relax collection requirements on employers.

Reeves is waiving the one-week waiting period to receive unemployment benefits for all claims filed from March 8 to June 27 and suspending all work search requirements that normally must be met to receive benefits.

The agency has modified its existing unemployment compensation rules to also allow workers to file a claim for unemployment benefits if they are/have been:

-- Quarantined by a medical professional or a government agency

-- Laid off or sent home without pay for an extended period by their employers due to COVID-19 concerns

-- Diagnosed with COVID-19

-- Caring for an immediate family member who has been diagnosed with COVID-19

To file an Unemployment Claim, visit the MDES website at www.mdes.ms.gov or call the MDES Contact Center at 1-888-844-3577.

The Contact Center will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., seven days a week.

SBA RAMPING UP EFFORTS TO ASSIST SMALL BUSINESSES

The U.S. Small Business Administration announced Saturday it is offering low-interest federal disaster loans for working capital to Mississippi small businesses suffering substantial economic injury as a result of the Coronavirus (COVID-19), SBA Administrator Jovita Carranza announced today. SBA acted under its own authority, as provided by the Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplemental Appropriations Act that was recently signed by the President, to declare a disaster following a request received from Gov. Tate Reeves on March 18, 2020.

The disaster declaration makes SBA assistance available in the entire state of Mississippi.

SBA Customer Service Representatives will be available to answer questions about SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loan program and explain the application process.

"Small businesses, private non-profit organizations of any size, small agricultural cooperatives and small aquaculture enterprises that have been financially impacted as a direct result of the Coronavirus (COVID-19) since Jan. 31, 2020, may qualify for Economic Injury Disaster Loans of up to $2 million to help meet financial obligations and operating expenses which could have been met had the disaster not occurred," said Carranza.

"These loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills that can't be paid because of the disaster's impact. Disaster loans can provide vital economic assistance to small businesses to help overcome the temporary loss of revenue they are experiencing," Carranza added.

Eligibility for Economic Injury Disaster Loans is based on the financial impact of the Coronavirus (COVID-19). The interest rate is 3.75 percent for small businesses. The interest rate for private non-profit organizations is 2.75 percent. SBA offers loans with long-term repayments in order to keep payments affordable, up to a maximum of 30 years and are available to entities without the financial ability to offset the adverse impact without hardship.

On March 12, a warrant was issued for Hargett for second-degree murder. He was arrested in Harrison County and transferred to the St. Tammany Parish Jail the next day, officers said.

Also on March 12, Rollins, 26, was booked into the St. Tammany jail on unrelated charges, jail records show.

On Monday, Rollins was also charged in St. Tammany with one count each of first-degree murder, attempted first-degree murder, possession of a firearm by a person convicted of a felony and obstruction of justice.

St. Tammany officials said the investigation is still active.

said.

Brian Adam also said that the rumor circulating that the government is shutting down the gasoline and fuel is also false.

"We've been trying to address it quite often,"

he said. "Everything we put out is either from MEMA, the MSDH or the CDC."

Supervisor Theresa Ryan added that MEMA also provides a link on its website, <https://www.msema.org/>, to address rumors.

"I can assure you, if it's not facts, we're not putting it out," Brian Adam said.

Saturday's proclamation is available for viewing on the county's website.

WHO HAS HAD INFLUENCE ON YOUR LIFE? BY GARY ANDREWS

As we grow older we should be able to look at our life on earth and establish who has been a tremendous influence on us. Many times when we are asked this question many of us will spout off really quick a pastor or Sunday School teacher that had a large impact on us when we were younger. While most of this is true I firmly believe that we can look into our formative years and find someone close to us that really was impressionable and guided us without us really knowing how much we cared for this individual or not.

All of us can tell stories of how someone touched our lives and left us with an everlasting outlook or opinion on this person or on life itself. When my wife and I first married we were fortunate enough to live next door to her parents for several years. My wife was the youngest of three children and her parents were really good influences on each of their marriages. I realize now, even though I have known this for years, just how much her parents meant to me. Her mom especially was a great inspiration to each of us spiritually and emotionally.

Her favorite verse in the Bible was John 15:5, "I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in Me, and I in him, bears much fruit; for without Me you can do nothing." I heard my mother-in-law repeat this verse over and over again and if anyone asked her what her favorite verse in the Bible was, she would say the verse then tell them the scripture reference.

Jesus speaks to us through this verse in a way no other can. He stressed our need to give our lives to Him and make Him our permanent dwelling place. The one thing that stands out in looking at a vine and its branches is their oneness. They each have committed themselves to the other. The word "abide" means to continue in, to dwell, to remain, or to stand. Jesus told this parable to His disciples so they would fully understand, and we would understand, that He wants us to be solidly connected to Him so that we can bear His fruit to others.

My mother-in-law understood this verse to the fullest. She was a person that devoted her time for the Lord. She had the qualities of Christ through her loving nature for others, her patience and gentleness. She was a humble person yet strong in her faith. Her kindness, peacefulness, and forgiving attitude all came from her strength in the Lord which she developed through her study of the Bible, her quiet time with the Lord, and through prayer. She would pray for Jesus to give her understanding but she would do more than most of us would when she prayed, she would listen for Him to speak to her.

She was a godly woman, a good wife, and a great leader and mother to her children. My wife and I both miss her more than we can ever express, however the legacy that she instilled into her children through her actions, words, and love for Christ will live on forever.

The more I study John chapter 15, the more I realize how we are to be like Christ. We are to give ourselves to Christ and be like Him in every way. Just as He depended upon the Heavenly Father every day for wisdom and strength to do His will, we are to do the same. My mother-in-law knew this and was a tremendous, shining example to everyone around her.

Prayer: Father I pray that I can be more like you and be the branch that bears much fruit. I praise you and give you all the glory for everything on earth and in Heaven. Amen

PCMS Collaborates with Pass Christian Public Library to Enrich Student Learning

Pass Christian Middle School (PCMS) and the Pass Christian Public Library have worked together this school year to provide all students the opportunity to obtain a library card. Teachers collaborated with library staff, communicated with parents, and helped students complete library card applications in order to make this happen. Nearly 300 students now have library cards that did not have them before, providing them with access to books, computers, and other resources that will benefit them greatly as they continue their education. After students received their library cards, ELA teachers from PCMS took the students on a field trip to the library which was a new and exciting experience for many of them. During the visit, students were given an overview of all the library has to offer and even participated in a scavenger hunt which led them to discover the many options available in regards to technology and resources. Students were also able to check out books with their newly issued cards, and upon returning to PCMS, many were already planning their next trip to the library!

Where Has All the Bread Gone?

BY LINDA BIGLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Lately, shopping for bread has been a hit and miss situation. While shopping at my local supermarket which has deep roots in New Orleans, there were no types of sliced bread or hamburger and hot dog buns. Do not despair, if this happens just get creative with your bread choices. Bagels and English muffins were in pretty good supply when I last ventured out to shop. They can be used to make sandwiches, burgers, and pizzas. You can find them in the bread aisle, refrigerated section, or the freezer. One of the latest food fads is to put a hamburger between two donuts. I have not tried it, but it is a unique idea.

Ground beef is another limited item in the store. I was able to find boxes of hamburger patties in the frozen food section. In addition, the meat counter had a variety of boneless cuts of beef, pork, and chicken. If you have a food processor, just cut the boneless meat into chunks, put it in your food processor, and pulse until the desired consistency is achieved.

If your search for bread has been a futile effort, here are a few recipes you can make at home. Remember that honey can be substituted for sugar when baking. I noticed that the honey was in good supply.

The first recipe requires no yeast and is quick and easy to make. It makes delicious sandwiches. I suggest you cool it, wrap it tightly, and chill overnight. It will slice more easily if you follow my instructions.

CARROT BREAD

- 1 cup finely grated row carrots
- 1 cup light brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 large eggs
- 2 and a half teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 and one half cup all purpose flour
- 1 cup whole wheat flour
- 1 cup finely chopped

toasted pecans

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Grease a standard sized loaf pan and line the bottom with parchment paper.

Combine carrots, sugar, baking soda, and butter in a large bowl. Pour in the boiling water and stir just enough to mix. Set aside to cool.

Lightly beat the eggs and add to the cooled carrot mixture. Stir in the baking powder, salt and flours until well combined. Do not over mix. Fold in the pecans. Pour into the prepared pan and let stand 5 minutes.

Bake in preheated oven for one hour. Remove from oven and cool on a wire rack for about 10 minutes before carefully removing from the pan.

Makes 1 loaf

The next bread uses biscuit mix for the base, requires no yeast, and includes cheese and wine. What is not to like? It is best served warm.

WINE AND CHEESE BREAD

- 2 cups biscuit mix
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon minced fresh onion

• 1 teaspoon dried dill weed or herb of your choice

• 4 tablespoons (one half stick) melted butter

• One fourth cup dry white wine

• 2 large eggs, lightly beaten

• One fourth cup milk

• 3 tablespoons freshly grated Parmesan, Romano, or sharp Cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Generously grease an 8-inch round pan with softened butter and line the bottom with parchment paper.

Combine biscuit mix, sugar, onion and herb. Add the butter, wine, eggs, and milk. Beat until smooth; pour into prepared pan. Sprinkle with your choice of cheese and bake 20 to 25 minutes until browned and done. Serve hot.

Makes one 8 inch round

Here are a few seasoned butters which can be prepared to add a little variety to bread and crackers. Allow these seasoned butters to soften a bit at room temperature before using.

ORANGE HONEY BUTTER

• 2 stick butter, softened

• One fourth cup honey

• 2 tablespoons orange juice

• 1 tablespoon finely grated orange zest

• Place all ingredients in a bowl and beat until smooth.

• Place into a container, cover and chill.

• Makes about 1 cup Strawberry Butter

• 2 sticks softened butter

• 1 cup crushed or frozen strawberries

Place ingredients in a bowl and beat until well combined. Place into a container, cover, and chill

Makes about 2 cups

ONION BUTTER

• 2 sticks softened butter

• One fourth cup grated fresh onion

• One fourth cup minced, fresh flat leaf parsley

• 2 teaspoons Worcester sauce

• 1 teaspoon Tabasco sauce

Combine all ingredients in a bowl. Beat with an electric mixer until light and fluffy. Place into a container and chill.

Makes about 1- and one-half cups

As you are grocery shopping, do not forget the Easter candy displays. My local supermarket had an abundance of Easter treats, but who knows how long they will last?

Be extra kind to those who are doing their best to keep the shelves stocked. That not only includes the people you see, but those who are behind the scenes like the baker, butchers, stockers, and truck drivers.

I have been trying to keep myself busy during this time of minimal contact with other humans. Over the past few days, I have been teaching my dog cursive.

So far, Gabby is not a willing student. If given enough time; however, I am positive his penmanship will be better than mine.

Take care and stay well.

Meet Jasper. This darling little American Staffordshire Terrier mix puppy is as smart as he is adorable. At only 3 1/2 months old, he is already sitting for treats and walks confidently on a leash and harness. We anticipate that Jasper will be a quick learner, and be eager to master new tasks. We adore his innate sweetness and affectionate nature towards people and other dogs. He would be a wonderful family pet, or a fun companion for a single person or couple of any age.

Of course, being a youngster, Jasper will require house and crate training, and a family devoted to spending quality time with him. Playtime, exercise, toys, sharing walks together, training and socialization all contribute to raising a healthy, happy adult dog. We want the best for this little guy. So, if you are able to meet the physical and emotional needs of a growing puppy, please visit Jasper at the Hancock County Animal Shelter, 7175 Texas Flat Rd, Kiln, MS. You are sure to fall in love with him. Call 228 466 4516 for more information, and visit our Facebook Page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of Jasper, and of the many other wonderful, adoptable animals looking for their forever homes.

“Catching” up with old friends

We are trying to fish, and stay positive. Groups of 10 or more people are discouraged, which kinda works in our(charter boats) favor. We are only permitted to take a maximum of 6, but rarely take more than 4 people.

I did get to fish with 2 of my “old school” buddies last week. Shirley and John Dane were looking for a little “social distancing”. I’ve know both of these two characters since junior high. Shirley and I even went to Southern Miss, in Hattiesburg together. We had an amazing day “catching up”.

The winds were howling, the water was low, fresh and dirty. We opted to stay focused on redfish and gossip. I probably haven’t fish with Shirley in over 20 years. John makes an appearance on our boats periodically. We had a ball sharing stories about friends and family. Some stories were G-rated, others... not so much.

I was kinda tough to get a through a story. The redfish were biting almost every single cast. The majority of the fish were undersized, so we tagged and released many. We kept at the story telling, and fish catching as best we could. Four hours flew by, and we finally got to our legal limit. John even found a keeper speckled trout on his last few casts.

The fishing was great, but catching up with my dear friends made the day for me. I feel confident we will all get through this. It may take weeks or even months. We are a tough, resilient, hard working breed down here. Please stay in touch with your friends and family. A simple text, email, or phone call will work. Take care everyone. Thanks

Soldier’s Day: Local fishing charter treats veterans to a free day of food, fish and fun

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

While a lot of people were busy last Friday stockpiling supplies in the face of a viral outbreak, a Bay St. Louis fishing charter was busy helping a group of veterans stockpile a hoard of good memories.

Shore Thing Fishing Charters used seven different boats early Friday morning to take a group of 28 veterans out for several hours of deep sea fishing, then brought them back to the Bay St. Louis Municipal Harbor and took them over to The Blind Tiger for lunch, all free of charge.

“It was a great day of fishing,” one of the vets said Friday as he stepped off the boat. “Now we’re looking forward to a great day of eating.”

“We’ve been doing this for about 10 years,” Shore Thing’s Capt. Sonny Schindler said Friday. “We were going through different groups and organizations before we finally hooked up with Gen. Bill Glaskow at Camp Shelby, and he started helping us get in contact with the veterans and set up the tours.

“The thing that ties this all together is Thomas Genin with The Blind Tiger. On Veterans Day, he always does that fee lunch for veterans and active-duty military. We started talking about doing it on Veterans Day, but Thomas said we could do it any time.

“You don’t need a specific day to celebrate how amazing these men and women are. It’s kind of like Valentine’s Day — you don’t really show your loved one how much you love ‘em on just that one day. You show ‘em all year long. We should be honoring these men and women every day because they’re so amazing. ... The guys donate way more to our country and freedom than we do (for

Schindler said that while he and the Shore Thing crew take the vets out to fish, Genin and The Blind Tiger crew get all the food ready.

“They do a terrific job,” he said.

For the past couple of years, Schindler said, Glaskow has been deployed elsewhere, so Dustin and Michelle Robinson have taken up the task of coordinating the veterans with the fishing charter.

“They handle all the logistics and they are fantastic,” Schindler said. “It takes one message 00 this many soldiers, this day and time. All we need is good weather and they take it from there.

“The soldiers are always so appreciative. It’s just an opportunity for them to get out there and clear their heads. Sometimes they talk about the horrors of war, and sometimes they’re just talking about their kids, but it’s a good time to decompress. They talk to their soldier buddies, they talk to me, and you can tell it’s a big stress relief for them. ... to maybe just take a break for a couple of hours.

awards were given in each flight. And, that game’s winners were: First Flight - 1st Place — Therese Mauterer and 2nd Place — Pat Vandervort. Second Flight - 1st Place — Nancy Sis-low and 2nd Place — Kathie Pierson. Third Flight - 1st Place — Kathy Jones and 2nd Place — Carol Wyrosdick. Unfortunately, no Chip-Ins or Birdies were scored during this round.

Good ole Mother Nature got her two cents worth in on Tuesday, January 21st; and due to very low temperatures forecasted for that morning, our play was cancelled.

We had better luck weatherwise on January 28th when we played a SCRAMBLE. This month our Scramble was composed of five member teams. The FIRST PLACE TEAM was made up of Therese Mauterer, Linda DeParto, Kathie Pierson, Betsy Lyons and Carol Wyrosdick. The SECOND PLACE TEAM included: Judy Tauzin, Marilyn Galus, Marlene Gossard, Kathy Jones and Edie Bearson. And, again, no Chip-ins or Birdies were recorded.

We hope all of you enjoy the various Mardi Gras parades, balls and other celebrations, and we will be back next month to keep you informed of more of our Diamondhead Nines “fun and games.”
